MISERY CAMPS OVER AMERICA'S WEST HALF

REFUGEES CROWD IN THE FLOODED MID-SOUTH AREA

MAROONED PARTIES IN BLIZZARD-SWEPT WESTERN MOUNTAINS

UNPARALLELED COLD WAVE CLAMPED DOWN IN MANY SECTIONS

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Misery camped all over the western half of the United States today, with refugees in the flooded mid-south, with marooned parties in the blizzard-swept western mountains and with the population in general as an almost unparalleled cold wave clamped down everywhere.

Marrow-chilling cold was the rule from the Canadian north to the Gulf of Mexico and from the pleasure resorts of the Pacific coast to the Appalachians. A low of 56 degrees below zero at Bear Creek, near Seneca, Ore., climaxed the frigidify list. The Columbia river there was frozen over solid.

A blizzard of unusual ferocity lashed northern Texas and the whole southwest was pummeled by icy gales. Seventeen persons, trapped in a cabin near Flagstaff, Ariz., were reported safe by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hildred, members of the party, who fought through snowdrifts to the town. Rescue crews had been beaten back by the storm.

Suffering was acute in the flood-swept sections of southern Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri and Mississippi. Hundreds of refugees, driven from their homes by the mounting tide that poured through levee breaks and turned the region into an inland sea were in a desperate plight because of the bitter cold. Many families were trapped in their homes at Decker Chapel by the break in the White river levee near Hazelton, Ind. Several sought refuge in the upper story of a school house. Shortage of motor boats hampered rescue.

Winds churned waves in the vast expanse of water there, adding to the peril of those marooned and increasing the tremendous damage toll.

The plight of the village of Decker Chapel, which was under from six to 10 feet of water, was approximated in communities all along the Midland river system. Sections of Missouri and Arkansas crossed by the St. Francis river were in flood and more breaks in the dikes threatened.

Vincennes, Ind., in peril for days of being inundated as the swollen Wabash reached the highest stage in history, breathed easier today as the river sank. The crest of the flood was racing toward Cairo, Ill., and the levees at Vincennes will hold, it was believed.

Thousands of acres of some of the richest farm lands in Indiana were under water. Other thousands of acres were flooded farther down the Mississippi valley.

Transportation and wire communication was paralyzed in the northwest and far west by storms and cold. A United Press wire was routed to Denver, El Paso, Oakland, Seattle, to St. Paul and thence to Superior, Wis., to reach the Wisconsin city.

It was the coldest in years in the Chicago area. Suburbs of the city reported as low as 21 degrees below zero. That was within two degrees of the coldest day in the city's history. On Dec. 25, 1872, it was 23 below.

Between 600 and 700 homeless men were cared for at Salvation Army missions, police stations and municipal lodging houses.

Other central states points reported lower temperatures than those in Chicago and it was increasingly cold toward the north and northwest. Minnesota and the Dakotas were bleak wastes of snow where temperatures ranged down to 30 below near Duluth and Minneapolis.

Portland, Ore., famous for mild temperatures, reported 13 above zero. Zero temperatures prevailed far down the west coast.

All-time frigidify records were shattered at Alliance, Neb., with 35 below. Fresh snow had fallen there and in Kansas. Scores of motorists had been stranded in Oklahoma when the blizzard caught them on highways.

In the oil fields of Oklahoma and Texas, housing facilities unadapted to long series of cold proved inadequate. From Shamrock, Texas, came the report that more than 140 men, women and children attracted there by railroad building projects were thrown on the mercy of rescue missions.

At Cushing, Okla., Sheriff Geyer was found dead in a snowdrift last night, apparently overcome by exertion and exposure while seeking aid to extricate his stranded automobile.

In Oklahoma City several women overcome by the cold were carried away from street car terminals on stretchers. An old man, known as "Blind Charley" was taken from his hovel in Oklahoma City so badly frozen he was expected to die.

The welfare workers who found the 81-year-old blind beggar came upon him while the sufferer was coaxing two dogs that occupied the hut with him to go out and attract aid.

COSTE BREAKS 2 WORLD RECORDS CARRYING HALF TON

Paris, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Dieudonne Coste had broken two world records for flights carrying a half-ton load today when he completed his fifteenth lap on the Nimes-Narbonne course. At 9:15 a. m. Coste had passed the record of the Germans Schnarbele and Loose, with a distance of 3750 kilometers against 2735, and had maintained an average speed of 214 kilometers an hour as against the German, Steindorf's average of 205 kilometers an hour.

FLATTENED PIECE OF LEAD MAY BE CLUE

NEW YORK POLICE CONFIDENT THEY HAVE ORIGIN OF GANG MURDERS

LINK THEM IN INTER-CITY COM- PACT BETWEEN NEW YORK AND CHICAGO GANGS

New York, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Through a flattened little piece of lead, New York police were confident today that they had linked gangland murders here with an inter-city compact between the New York and Chicago underworlds.

The bit of lead was taken from the body of Frank Yale, Brooklyn racketeer who was slain more than a year ago. Tests in Chicago, Police Commissioner Whalen announced, showed that it was fired from a sub-machine gun found in the Benton Harbor, Mich., home of Frederick Burke. The same gun was used in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven men in Chicago.

Burke is described as the "most wanted" man in the country and agents of Whalen's secret service squad are working with Chicago detectives to apprehend him. Burke, already charged with the massacre of the seven members of the Moran gang last February, with the murder of a Benton Harbor policeman and with numerous bank robberies, is characterized by Whalen as the genius of the inter-city murder system.

"Scarface" Al Capone, notorious underworld chieftain, also comes into the picture. Weapons found in Burke's Benton Harbor fortress and some of those abandoned here at the time of the Yale murder have been traced to an arsenal which Capone formerly maintained in Chicago, according to Whalen.

WONDERS IF HE WILL GET HIS OLD JOB BACK

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Sidney Anderson, suspended motorcycle patrolman, today wondered if he would get his old job back. Last night after debating for nearly six hours, a jury found him not guilty of accepting a $25 bribe from Frank J. Berry, former police lieutenant. The money was alleged to have been part of $200 which bootleggers paid to recover a still police had seized.

Confesses Complicity to Murder of Highway Corporal Brady Paul

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Sheriff Charles Wright announced today that Glenn Dague, of Toledo, Ohio, one of the three persons arrested here last week after a gun fight with authorities, had confessed complicity in the murder of Highway Corporal Brady Paul near Newcastle, Pa., on Dec. 27, 1929.

has held the city for more than a week today was well on the way to moderation.

During the night the official reading sank to 25 below zero but at 8 a. m. today the temperature had risen to 8 degrees below.

Weather bureau officials predicted that the record would stand as a climax of the present cold spell although more sub-zero temperatures might persist.

Temperatures from the Dakotas showed that the cold wave had broken there with the thermometer reading first time in nearly two weeks.

Telephone and telegraph wires hanging above zero at Bismarck for the snapped in some sections of the northwest as the tension tightened from the cold.

The coldest spot in the northwest was Duluth where the thermometer registered 26 below. Williston, N. D. reported 4 below which was representative of that state, Kamloops with 14 below held the record for Canada.

Shippers were advised to protect from 0 to 10 below.

Temperatures at other northwest cities include: Moorhead 8; Wausau, Wis., 26; Charles City, Iowa, 26; and Grand Forks, N. D. 3.

Senate Wets, Drys to Go on Record on Repeal of 18th Amendment in Blaine's Resolution

1ST TEST VOTE ON PROHIBITION SINCE IT WAS RATIFIED

SENATOR BORAH ANNOUNCES WILLINGNESS FOR VOTE ANY TIME

SENATOR BLAINE WANTS VOTE AS SOON AS TARIFF BILL IS OUT OF WAY

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Senate wets and drys are ready to go on record on repeal of the 18th amendment which is before them in the Blaine resolution. It will be the first test vote on the prohibition amendment since it was ratified 11 years ago.

Invitations for the test of strength were issued today by representatives of the opposing factions. Senator Borah, repn., Idaho, outspoken dry leader, announced his willingness for a vote at any time. While Senator Blaine, repn., Wis., author of the resolution, said he would expect a vote as soon as the tariff bill is out of the way. Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee lent his encouragement to the movement by promising the committee would report out the resolution—adversely—and let the senate decide.

A check by the United Press showed that Blaine can hope for no more than 20 of the senatorial votes. Borah predicted no more than eight would go on record for repeal.

Wets admit they have no chance to win but declared they want to place every senator and house member on record so his vote would be an issue when he comes up for re-election in November.

Drys, stronger numerically than they ever have been, have no worry about the result of a test.

While the senate is ready for a vote, it is by no means certain the house will follow suit.

However, Republican Floor Leader Wilson said today he will not stand in the way of a test vote on prohibition there "if our members desire to follow the lead of the senate." He said the judiciary committee must first report the resolution. This committee contains several prominent wets, but has a dry majority.

Blaine said today he did not expect the senate to pass the resolution.

"The present temperance of the senate is strong against it," he said. "But it is well to keep the issue before the people and let them know how their representatives in congress stand on the issue."

"The vote will be preceded by much illuminating debate."

"Sometime we must come to the realization that the 18th amendment cannot be enforced. I believe that time will come soon. The drys surely have confidence in the efforts of Mr. Hoover to enforce it. I do not say I have, but they have. Well if Mr. Hoover is unable to enforce it, the drys must reach the conclusion that it should be amended. That is the hope I have."

ARE TO RELIEVE CROWDED COURT CALENDARS SOON

SEN. C. ROSENMEIER HOPES TO DEVISE PLAN TO RELIEVE CONGESTION

Little Falls, Minn., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—State Senator C. Rosenmeier today appointed a senate sub-committee to devise a plan to relieve crowded court calendars in the seventh and sixteenth judicial districts.

Early this week the state interim committee rejected a state wide re-districting proposal which was opposed by legislators from southern Minnesota.

Sensor Rosenmeier appointed a sub-committee to deal with the congestion in the seventh and sixteenth judicial districts. The newly appointed committee also will investigate the needs of other northern Minnesota districts for division or revision of boundary lines.

J. S. Sullivan, St. Cloud, of the seventh district, will be chairman of the sub-committee. Other members will be Tom Mangan, Morris, sixteenth district; K. K. Solberg, Clarkfield, twelfth district; George H. Sullivan, Stillwater, nineteenth district; John H. Hougen, Crookston, fourteenth district; Alfred L. Thwing, Grand Rapids, fifteenth district; and Will Blanchard, Anoka, eighteenth district.

CHICAGO'S FINANCIAL PROSPECTS ARE BLEAK

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Chicago's financial prospect was as bleak as the snow-clad landscape today.

A total of 18,844 employees of the city, county and public schools were working without pay and there was scant prospect of finding money to pay their overdue salaries. Among those who have not been paid were 6,715 in the police department and 2,689 in the fire department.

Silas H. Strawn told the Chicago Commercial club in a closed meeting last night that the plight of the community was approaching the desperate. At the same time, Mayor William Hale Thompson was telling 150 representatives of neighborhood newspapers that reassessments had reduced tax evaluations in the loop district by $300,000,000 and brought about the financial muddle.

IN DRAMATIC PLEA FOR RIGHT TO HOUSE SEAT

MRS. RUTH BRYAN APPEARS BEFORE ELECTIONS SUB-COMMITTEE OF HOUSE

RELATES DETAILS OF HER WAR SERVICE, DEATHS OF HUSBAND AND FATHER

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—A dramatic personal plea for the right to retain her seat in the house, which she does not possess the necessary citizenship requirements, was made before an elections sub-committee of the house today by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan.

"I ask nothing more than justice and expect less from the committee," Mrs. Owen said. "I ask confirmation of my election not only for myself, but for all American women. I ask that you serve notice to them in making your decision that citizenship rights are to be respected by the government."

Several women in the audience wiped tears out of their eyes as Mrs. Owen, bracing herself against the wall of the committee room, related in detail the story of her war service, the subsequent death of her husband, Major Reginald Owen of the British army, and finally the death of her father.

Counsel for William C. Lawson, whom Mrs. Owen defeated last fall for election to congress from the fourth Florida district, had contended she sacrificed her United States citizenship by marrying a British subject. They contended Mrs. Owen had been naturalized less than seven years ago and, therefore, was not eligible for a seat in the house.

CLAIM CONDITIONS NOT AS CRITICAL AS FIRST REPORTED

New York, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Representatives of 233 motion picture houses are convinced after an investigation that the financial condition of the Fox Film corporation and the Fox Theater corporation is not nearly so critical as reports have it.

They issued a statement addressed to all theater owners in the country after meeting with William Fox and declared that the two corporations can completely solve their financial problems by floating an issue of $35,000,000 of short term notes.

Washburn Made Director of Federal Reserve Bank

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Governor W. B. Geery of the Ninth Federal Reserve bank announced today that Will O. Washburn, president of the A. J. Krank company of St. Paul, will be elected to the board of directors Monday. Washburn will succeed the late Paul N. Myers of St. Paul.

STENCH BOMB CLOUDS UP 'WIZARD OF NILE' SHOW

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Skillfully a stage magician was thrilling 3,000 persons who gathered last night to see "The Wizard of the Nile" presented by members of the University of Minnesota music department.
Suddenly something went wrong over which magic had no avail.
A stench bomb had been planted in the auditorium. Spectators, many in formal clothes, rushed for the exits where they received "stench bomb stabs" which entitle them to attend tonight's performance.

RIDGE LANDS, SEN. PITTMAN'S HOME, DESTROYED

18-ROOM MANSION AT WASHINGTON, D. C., IS TOTAL LOSS

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $150,000, SENATOR AND WIFE ESCAPE WITHOUT INJURY

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Ridge Lands, beautiful Washington home of Senator Key Pittman, of Tonopah, Nevada, was destroyed by fire today. Both Senator and Mrs. Pittman were in the house, a spacious 18-room mansion, when the fire broke out, but escaped without injury.

Damage was estimated at $150,000. Senator Pittman had just completed a large addition to the house a short time ago.

It was thought the fire started in a fireplace, as it was first noticed on the second floor, according to early reports.

Firemen were handicapped by lack of water and a bitterly cold snowstorm. The house is located a considerable distance from the nearest fire plug and this fact enabled the fire to get beyond control after an inauspicious start.

In addition the worst snow storm of the winter here blanketed the territory and made progress difficult. The extreme cold added to the hazard.

Three firemen were injured fighting the blaze. One suffered a dislocated shoulder, another was overcome by smoke and a third sprained his wrist severely.

Pittman carried no insurance.

HOOVER IN PLEA TO REORGANIZE FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's plan for reorganization of the federal power commission to increase its effectiveness soon will be translated into a bill and introduced in the house, Representative Aernzt, republican, Nevada, said after a conference with Mr. Hoover today.

The commission has jurisdiction over federal water power sites.

CHECK MOVEMENTS OF MURDER SUSPECT

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—The story of where a suspect to the killing of Charles Getchell had been Tuesday night was being checked today by police. Arrested last night on a mysterious tip, the suspect was identified by the widow as being "like" the man who shot the world war veteran.

TO EXTRADITE 'TRIGGER WOMAN'

Newcastle, Pa., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Five police officers left Newcastle today for Phoenix, Ariz., to extradite Irene Schroeder, blonde "trigger woman," and her two accomplices for trial in connection with the killing of State Highway Corporal Brady Paul.

The party was expected to reach Phoenix Monday.

USED CONCEALED POP BOTTLE AS GUN AND ROBBED

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Charles Irwin today awaited sentence after pleading guilty to robbing William Kaplan, collector, of $400 by using a pop bottle under his coat as a concealed gun. Irwin pleaded guilty to the holdup after a jury had been selected and the prosecuting attorney had presented his case. Judge Hugo O. Hanft was investigating Irwin's case under the habitual criminal act.

400 MID-WEST NEWSPAPERMEN TALKING SHOP

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE MINNESOTA EDITORIAL ASSO- CIATION IS BEING HELD

MERCHANDISING NEWSPAPER PRODUCT, RELATION OF THE PRESS TO COMMUNITY

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Forgetting the problems of farm relief, prohibition and barge traffic, more than 400 mid-west newspaper publishers and editors today reverted to shop talk at the annual convention of the Minnesota Editorial Association.

Features of the sessions were discussions on merchandising the newspaper product, the relation of the press to the community and the place of women in the modern newspaper world. One of the chief subjects of discussion between publishers was the need of co-operation between metropolitan and rural newspapers.

Among the speakers who addressed the delegates were Governor Theodore Christianson, Mayor L. C. Hodgson of St. Paul and Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway.

Budd told the editors that operation of the Burlington railroad by the combined Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads would insure lower transportation costs. He estimated that the operating expenses of the three roads could be reduced $10,000,000 if they were all under the same management.

The recent interstate commerce commission proposal for transportation unification ordered the Burlington separated from the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, which were placed in the same grouping.

Sam S. Haislet, of Minneapolis, secretary and field manager of the association, said in his annual report that 80 per cent of the eligible newspapers published in Minnesota are members of the association. Nearly all of the original member papers still are represented in the association, he pointed out.

Delegates were presented today with the third issue of a four-page tabloid titled newspaper. The paper is published by the University of Minnesota school of journalism.

ASK RECEIVER FOR FOX FILM CORPORATION

New York, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—A receiver for the Fox Film corporation was asked in a suit brought today by Ira M. Gast, a class A stockholder. The suit charged that obligations of $91,000,000 were improperly contracted and assumed.

Graf Zeppelin to Fly to South America in May

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Commander Hugo Eckener announced today that the dirigible Graf Zeppelin will make a trans-Atlantic flight early next May from Friedrichshafen to Seville, Spain; Pernambuco and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The trip will not be extended to Buenos Aires, however, Eckener said.

'Arctic Patrol' Blocked in Flight by Bad Weather

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Maj. Ralph Royce of the army "Arctic patrol" advised the United Press by long distance telephone that he had postponed the take off for Spokane, scheduled for today of the 13 planes under his command at Great Falls, Mont.

SOVIET SEEK TO VERIFY REPORT OF EIELSON LANDING

Moscow, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—The first Soviet attempt to verify reports that Capt. Carl Ben Eielson had landed near the Anguema river on the northern coast of Siberia have failed.

The aviator Slepoff took off from Providence Bay for the Ambuema region but was forced back by a blinding snowstorm. He will make another attempt as soon as possible.

Mabel Normand Suffering From T. B.

Monrovia, Calif., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—The condition of Mabel Normand, screen actress who has been confined to the Pottenger sanitarium here with tuberculosis, was reported satisfactory by her secretary, Mrs. Julia Benson, today.

Mrs. Benson denied radio reports that Miss Normand was near death but added, "She is still a very sick girl."

Another Tragedy of the Air

The charred wreckage of the Fairchild airplane in which the bodies of William Kirkpatrick and Daniel Marra, test pilots, were found burned beyond recognition. The two fliers had been raising low days after taking off from Farming-dale, N. Y., on a test flight. It is believed that the pilots were attempting to land during a heavy fog when they crashed into a tree, which killed them and set fire to the plane.

ARE TO RELIEVE CROWDED COURT CALENDARS SOON

SEN. C. ROSENMEIER HOPES TO DEVISE PLAN TO RELIEVE CONGESTION

7TH AND 16TH JUDICIAL DIS- TRICTS ARE TAKEN UNDER CONSIDERATION

Little Falls, Minn., Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — State Senator C. Rosenmeier today appointed a senate sub-committee to devise a plan to relieve crowded court calendars in the seventh and sixteenth judicial districts.

Early this week the state interim committee rejected a state wide redistricting proposal which was opposed by legislators from southern Minnesota.

Senator Rosenmeier appointed a sub-committee to deal with the congestion in the seventh and sixteenth judicial districts. The newly appointed committee also will investigate the needs of other northern Minnesota districts for division or revision of boundary lines.

J. S. Sullivan, St. Cloud, of the seventh district, will be chairman of the sub-committee. Other members will be Tom Mangum, Morris, sixteenth district; K. K. Solberg, Clarkfield, twelfth district; George H. Sullivan, Stillwater, nineteenth district; John H. Houghton, Crookston, fourteenth district; Alfred L. Thwing, Grand Rapids, fifteenth district; and Will Blanchard, Anoka, eighteenth district.

CHICAGO'S FINANCIAL PROSPECTS ARE BLEAK

Chicago, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Chicago's financial prospect was as bleak as the snow-clad landscape today.

A total of 18,844 employees of the city, county and public schools were working without pay and there was scant prospect of finding money to pay their overdue salaries. Among those who have not been paid were 6,715 in the police department and 2,689 in the fire department.

Silas H. Strawn told the Chicago Commercial club in a closed meeting last night that the plight of the community was approaching the desperate. At the same time, Mayor William Hale Thompson was telling 150 representatives of neighborhood newspapers that reassessments had reduced tax evaluations in the loop district by $300,000,000 and brought about the financial muddle.

IN DRAMATIC PLEA FOR RIGHT TO HOUSE SEAT

MRS. RUTH BRYAN APPEARS BE- FORE ELECTIONS SUB-COM- MITTEE OF HOUSE

RELATES DETAILS OF HER WAR SERVICE, DEATHS OF HUS- BAND AND FATHER

Washington, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — A dramatic personal plea for the right to retain her seat in the house, which has been challenged on the ground she does not possess the necessary citizenship requirements, was made before an elections sub-committee of the house today by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan.

"I ask nothing more than justice and expect less from the committee," Mrs. Owen said. "I ask confirmation of my election not only for myself, but for all American women. I ask that you serve notice to them in making your decision that citizenship rights are to be respected by the government."

Several women in the audience wiped tears out of their eyes as Mrs. Owen, bracing herself against the wall of the committee room, related in detail the story of her war service, the subsequent death of her husband, Major Reginald Owen of the British army, and finally the death of her father.

Counsel for William C. Lawson, whom Mrs. Owen defeated last fall for election to congress from the fourth Florida district, had contended she sacrificed her United States citizenship by marrying a British subject. They contended Mrs. Owen had been naturalized less than seven years ago and, therefore, was not eligible for a seat in the house.

CLAIM CONDITIONS NOT AS CRITICAL AS FIRST REPORTED

New York, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Representatives of 233 motion picture houses are convinced after an investigation that the financial condition of the Fox Film corporation and the Fox Theaters corporation is not nearly so critical as reports have it.

They issued a statement addressed to all theater owners in the country after meeting with William Fox and declared that the two corporations can completely solve their financial problems by floating an issue of $35,000,000 of short term notes.

Washburn Made Director of Federal Reserve Bank

Minneapolis, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Governor W. B. Geary of the Ninth Federal Reserve bank announced today that Will O. Washburn, president of the A. J. Krank company of St. Paul, will be elected to the board of directors Monday. Washburn will succeed the late Paul N. Myers of St. Paul.

STENCH BOMB CLOUDS UP 'WIZARD OF NILE' SHOW

Minneapolis, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Skillfully a stage magician was thrilling 3,000 persons who gathered last night to see "The Wizard of the Nile" presented by members of the University of Minnesota music department.

Suddenly something went wrong over which magic had no avail. A stench bomb had been planted in the auditorium. Spectators, many in formal clothes, rushed for the exits where they received "stench bomb stubs" which entitle them to attend tonight's performance.

RIDGE LANDS, SEN. PITTMAN'S HOME, DESTROYED

18-ROOM MANSION AT WASHING- TON, D. C., IS TOTAL LOSS

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $150,000, SENATOR AND WIFE ESCAPE WITHOUT INJURY

Washington, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Ridge Lands, beautiful Washington home of Senator Key Pittman, of Tonopah, Nevada, was destroyed by fire today. Both Senator and Mrs. Pittman were in the house, a spacious 18-room mansion, when the fire broke out, but escaped without injury.

Damage was estimated at $150,000. Senator Pittman had just completed a large addition to the house a short time ago.

It was thought the fire started in a fireplace, as it was first noticed on the second floor, according to early reports.

Firemen were handicapped by lack of water and a bitterly cold snowstorm. The house is located a considerable distance from the nearest fire plug and this fact enabled the fire to get beyond control after an inauspicious start.

In addition the worst snow storm of the winter here blanketed the territory and made progress difficult. The extreme cold added to the hazard.

Three firemen were injured fighting the blaze. One suffered a dislocated shoulder, another was overcome by smoke and a third sprained his wrist severely.

Pittman carried no insurance.

HOOVER IN PLEA TO REORGANIZE FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

Washington, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — President Hoover's plan for reorganization of the federal power commission to increase its effectiveness soon will be translated into a bill and introduced in the house, Representative Aertiz, republican, Nevada, said after a conference with Mr. Hoover today.

The commission has jurisdiction over federal water power sites.

CHECK MOVEMENTS OF MURDER SUSPECT

Minneapolis, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — The story of where a suspect to the killing of Charles Getchell had been Tuesday night was being checked today by police. Arrested last night on a mysterious tip, the suspect was identified by the widow as being "like" the man who shot the world war veteran.

TO EXTRADITE 'TRIGGER WOMAN'

Newcastle, Pa., Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Five police officers left Newcastle today for Phoenix, Ariz., to extradite Irene Schroeder, blonde "trigger woman," and her two accomplices for trial in connection with the killing of State Highway Corporal Brady Paul.

The party was expected to reach Phoenix Monday.

USED CONCEALED POP BOTTLE AS GUN AND ROBBED

Minneapolis, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Charles Irwin today awaited sentence after pleading guilty to robbing William Kaplan, collector, of $400 by using a concealed gun. Irwin pleaded guilty to the holdup after a jury had been selected and the prosecuting attorney had presented his case. Judge Hugo O. Hanft was investigating Irwin's case under the habitual criminal act.

400 MID-WEST NEWSPAPERMEN TALKING SHOP

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE MINNESOTA EDITORIAL ASSO- CIATION IS BEING HELD

MERCHANDISING NEWSPAPER PRODUCT, RELATION OF THE PRESS TO COMMUNITY

Minneapolis, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Forgetting the problems of farm relief, prohibition and barge traffic, more than 400 mid-west newspaper publishers and editors today reverted to shop talk at the annual convention of the Minnesota Editorial Association.

Features of the sessions were discussions on merchandising the newspaper product, the relation of the press to the community and the place of women in the modern newspaper world. One of the chief subjects of discussion between publishers was the need of co-operation between metropolitan and rural newspapers.

Among the speakers who addressed the delegates were Governor Theodore Christianson, Mayor L. C. Hodgson of St. Paul and Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway.

Budd told the editors that operation of the Burlington railroad by the combined Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads would insure lower transportation costs. He estimated that the operating expenses of the three roads could be reduced $10,000,000 if they were all under the same management.

The recent interstate commerce commission proposal for transportation unification ordered the Burlington separated from the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, which were placed in the same grouping.

Sam S. Haislet, of Minneapolis, secretary and field manager of the association, said in his annual report that 80 per cent of the eligible newspapers published in Minnesota are members of the association. Nearly all of the original member papers still are represented in the association, he pointed out.

Delegates were presented today with the third issue of a four-page tabloid titled tabloid newspaper. The paper is published by the University of Minnesota school of journalism.

ASK RECEIVER FOR FOX FILM CORPORATION

New York, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — A receiver for the Fox Film corporation was asked in a suit brought today by Ira M. Gast, a class A stockholder. The suit charged that obligations of $91,000,000 were improperly contracted and assumed.

Graf Zeppelin to Fly to South America in May

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Commander Hugo Eckener announced today that the dirigible Graf Zeppelin will make a trans-Atlantic flight early next May from Friedrichshafen to Seville, Spain; Pernambuco and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The trip will not be extended to Buenos Aires, however, Eckener said.

'Arctic Patrol' Blocked in Flight by Bad Weather

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Maj. Ralph Royce of the army "Arctic patrol" advised the United Press by long distance telephone that he had postponed the take off for Spokane, scheduled for today of the 13 planes under his command at Great Falls, Mont.

SOVIET SEEK TO VERIFY REPORT OF EIELSON LANDING

Moscow, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — The first Soviet attempt to verify reports that Capt. Carl Ben Eielson had landed near the Anguema river on the northern coast of Siberia have failed.

The aviator Slepoff took off from Providence Bay for the Ambuema region but was forced back by a blinding snowstorm. He will make another attempt as soon as possible.

Mabel Normand Suffering From T. B.

Monrovia, Calif., Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — The condition of Mabel Normand, screen actress who has been confined to the Pottenger sanitarium here with tuberculosis, was reported satisfactory by her secretary, Mrs. Julia Benson, today.

Mrs. Benson denied radio reports that Miss Normand was near death but added, "She is still a very sick girl."

Another Tragedy of the Air

The charred wreckage of the Fairchild airplane in which the bodies of William Kirkpatrick and Daniel Marra, test pilots, were found burned beyond recognition. The two fliers had been missing four days after taking off from Farmingdale, N. Y., on a test flight. It is believed that the pilots were attempting to land during a heavy fog when they crashed into a tree, which killed them and set fire to the plane.

Christian Endeavor Meeting

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Congregation church held a party in the parlors of the church last evening. A pleasant evening was spent in games, followed by refreshments. One feature of the party, a sleigh ride, had to be postponed on account of the severe weather.

Miss Helen Sheets was chairman of the committee in charge of the evening's entertainment. About twenty were present.

St. Francis Study Club

The St. Francis Study club will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Gabiou, 314 North Ninth street. Mrs. M. E. Hitch and Mrs. E. Quinlin will take part in the program.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

It happened that two men bearing the same name, one a clergyman, the other a business man, both lived in the same city. The clergyman died, and about the same time his neighbor went to southern California. When the business man arrived there, he sent his wife a telegram informing her of his safe journey, but unfortunately it was delivered to the widow of the late preacher. What was the surprise of the good woman to read, "Arrived safely—heat terrific."

CHANGE OF SCENERY

Wife—The doctor says I should have a change of scenery.

The Brute—I've been telling you all along you ought to sit on the back porch instead of the front.

The Monkey

With fierce unrest the monkey fights To shake his forest fetters That he may spend his days and nights Aping his well-known betters.

Remaining on Earth

"Are you going to take up aviation?"

"No," answered Miss Cayenne. "I know a girl pilot who took her favorite suitor up for a sky ride. She scared him so that he is still afraid to propose."—Washington Star.

Lobby Liberality

"That lobbyist seemed very generous," said Senator Sorghum.

"In what way?"

"He says he wants to conduct a campaign of education and provide a liberal fund for tuition fees and prize awards."—Washington Star.

Favorite Efforts

"What do you regard as the best speech you ever made?"

"I haven't any preference," answered Senator Sorghum, "but the ones that afforded me most satisfaction were my various speeches of acceptance."—Washington Star.

An Impression Corrected

"Did the audience weep while I was singing?" asked the temperamental soprano.

"No," replied the music director, "you were making that noise all by yourself."—Washington Star.

The Brute

Mrs. Tonsils—I've just been singing baby to sleep. He always goes to sleep as soon as I begin to sing.

Her Husband—Happy kid, he does not have to listen to it.

SERVICES in the CHURCHES

Jesus and Martha

John 11:25, 26, 27. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? 27. She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

Prayer: We rejoice that Christ is risen from the dead, the first fruits of them that slept.

Had a Racing Heart

By GENEVRA COOK

(Copyright)

"READY with your horses for the 2:10 trot!" boomed the voice of Judge Crawford from his flag-draped stand. Bob Brent stood beside Bonny Bell, his heart thumping wildly. He had to make good! Only last night Beverly Stanwood had said to him the words that had brought him here today. "You haven't a racing heart!" Because since he had inherited Brentwood stables from his uncle he hadn't kept them up, and sold one horse after the other until only Bonny Bell was left, she had turned cold to him.

"Entered in the 2:10 trot, purse $20,000," called the judge. ("Enough to build up the stables again," thought Bob.) "Race is run in four heats. Air Mail—has the pole. Speed Demon—first place. Son o' Satan—second place. Bonny Bell of Brentwood stables—third place." For a fleeting instant Bob wondered what Beverly had thought when she heard the name.

"Go!"

They were off down the track, Son o' Satan leading, Air Mail holding the pole. Bonny Bell, ears flapping against her head, stretched her supple body in a long stream line against the background of low white fence. Bob touched the whip to the shoulders of his mare; she sped forward, straight, slim, swift—halfway round and she had passed Speed Demon, was even with Air Mail. Three-quarters, and she was up to the shoulder of Son o' Satan; up to his neck; even; and, her nose stretched forward.

Dimly Bob was aware of the roaring of the stands, of the voice of Judge Crawford calling:

"Results of the 2:10 trot. First heat.

"Bonny Bell, first, with first money—'Air Mail'—"

Then, over the heads of the swarming people around the stalls, he saw Beverly. Slender, straight, and smiling, she stood there, her black curls tumbling over the scarlet of her leather jacket, her hand raised toward him, waving.

Bob Brent never remembered the interval till he led Bonny Bell, freshly curried and groomed, onto the track for the second heat.

His horse started well. For the first half round she led the field with ease. At the grandstand Son o' Satan, recovering his original speed, climbed up to her shoulder.

Almost neck and neck they went over the line and down the track. Bill Spraggis, driving Son o' Satan, leaned forward and cut with the whip. Son o' Satan sprang at the lash, swerved to cut in on Bob's horse, caught in the wheel—there was a crash—a thud—

Bob Brent opened his eyes dizzily to the mingled scents of hay and ammonia. Tubby, the stable boy, was bending over him, an open bottle in one snuggly hand. Bob groaned and twisted himself up on to his side.

"I guess it's all over, boy," he said miserably.

"Come on and see!" urged Tubby. For the first time Bob became aware of confusion and shouting at the track. The clamor swelled as, leaning on Tubby's willing shoulder, he reached the door. And then he saw.

Kidding down the track, her scarlet coat and black curls flying behind her, leaning far forward over the dash, her eyes on her horse, came Beverly Stanwood, driving Bonny Bell, last in the field!

"Come on, Bonny Bell," she called. "Come on!"

Nose forward, up to Air Mail, past the springing stands; shoulder to shoulder with Speed Demon, flashing by Judge Crawford; nose to flank with Son o' Satan; holding it, nose to flank.

"Which heat?" gasped Bob.

"Fourth!" yelled Tubby, nearly bursting with excitement. "Son o' Satan got the second, and she got the third!"

Nose to shoulder, and three-quarters of the track gone. Nose and nose and by the front's stands. And again that slim nose stretching out, a scarlet flash past the judge's stand, and over the line to win the race!

There must have been shouting and throwing of hats in the air, prize money and a leading of Bonny Bell past cheering stands; but of the rest of this day, Bob Brent could remember only one thing.

He could remember that he and Beverly stood at sunset out past the redeemed Brentwood stables, where the hill rises to meet the sky, their hands resting together on the shoulder of Bonny Bell. And just as the sun dropped low over the western horizon, Beverly came into his outstretched arms and lifted her face to his.

"I was wrong about what I said before, Bob," she whispered, and her voice was tremulous. "You have a racing heart!"

"Oh, Beverly! I do have a racing heart," he answered her whisper. "Put your hand on it, dear and feel how it's racing—for you!"

Fashions for the Smart Woman

TRIPLE CAPES

Capes are the outstanding feature of the winter wraps. Small capes, broad capes, long capes, and short capes. So what could be smarter than three capes, all on one coat. It was nothing short of inspiration to add capes to winter coats, for they supply a swag note that would be impossible to gain in any other way. The coat with triple capes, illustrated above, is made of one of the heavy novelty tweeds, and dispenses with a fur collar in favor of rolled back revers which extend to the lower edge. An indispensable wrap for trotteur use. Pictorial Pattern No. 4868. Sizes 14 to 46, 45 cents.

Walled Arabian City

Sanza, a town in the desert of southwest Arabia, is surrounded by a high wall of rubble and mud, some four miles about, with four principal gates and many turrets, mostly in ruins. Within this storied Arabian city are 48 mosques. In the neighborhood of the Grand mosque, are the lapidaries who cut the beautiful Yemen stones of quartz and chrysochryse known to the outside world.

STORIES OF SERVICE

The Paying Teller

To a stranger, the teller or other bank assistant may simply be a face behind a window. But to those he serves he is capable, friendly, attentive—one who greets them with a smile and serves them with intelligence. In every walk of life a man serves the other to receive a service in return, and this briefly is the Story of Civilized Society.

FLOOD ZONE AT VINCENNES, INDIANA

At left is typical scene in Vincennes, Ind., where many dwellers along the banks of the Wabash River have been forced to flee from their homes in rowboats. The scene at the right shows a group of workmen placing sandbags along a highway leading into Vincennes in their effort to halt the mad waters. A warning has been sent to farmers.

Had a Racing Heart

By GENEVRA COOK

(Copyright)

"READY with your horses for the 2:10 trot!" boomed the voice of Judge Crawford from his flag-draped stand. Bob Brent stood beside Bonny Bell, his heart thumping wildly. He had to make good! Only last night Beverly Stanwood had said to him the words that had brought him here today. "You haven't a racing heart!" Because since he had inherited Brentwood stables from his uncle he hadn't kept them up, and sold one horse after the other until only Bonny Bell was left, she had turned cool to him.

"Entered in the 2:10 trot, purse $20,000," called the judge. "Enough to build up the stables again," thought Bob. "Race is run in four heats. Air Mail—has the pole. Speed Demon—first place. Son o' Satan—second place. Bonny Bell of Brentwood stables—third place." For a fleeting instant Bob wondered what Beverly had thought when she heard the name.

"Go!"

They were off down the track, Son o' Satan leading, Air Mail holding the pole. Bonny Bell, ears flat against her head, stretched her supple body in a long stream line against the background of low white fence. Bob touched the whip to the shoulders of his mare; she sped forward, straight, slim, swift—halfway round and she had passed Speed Demon, was even with Air Mail. Three-quarters, and she was up to the shoulder of Son o' Satan; up to his neck; even; and, her nose stretched forward.

Dimly Bob was aware of the roaring of the stands, of the voice of Judge Crawford calling:

"Results of the 2:10 trot. First heat.

"Bonny Bell, first, with first money—'Air Mail'—"

Then, over the heads of the swarming people around the stalls, he saw Beverly. Slender, straight, and smiling, she stood there, her black curls tumbling over the scarlet of her leather jacket, her hand raised toward him, waving.

Bob Brent never remembered the interval till he led Bonny Bell, freshly curried and groomed, onto the track for the second heat.

His horse started well. For the first half round she led the field with ease. At the grandstand Son o' Satan, recovering his original speed, climbed up to her shoulder.

Almost neck and neck they went over the line and down the track. Bill Spruggis, driving Son o' Satan, leaned forward and cut with the whip. Son o' Satan sprang at the lash, swerved to cut in on Bob's horse, caught in the wheel—there was a crash—a thud—

Bob Brent opened his eyes dizzily to the mingled scents of hay and ammonia. Tubby, the stable boy, was bending over him, an open bottle in one smudgy hand. Bob groaned and twisted himself up on to his side.

"I guess it's all over, boy," he said miserably.

"Come on and see!" urged Tubby.

For the first time Bob became aware of confusion and shouting at the track. The clamor swelled as, leaning on Tubby's willing shoulder, he reached the door. And then he saw.

Riding down the track, her scarlet coat and black curls flying behind her, leaning far forward over the dash, her eyes on her horse, came Beverly Stanwood, driving Bonny Bell, last in the field!

"Come on, Bonny Bell," she called. "Come on!"

Nose forward, up to Air Mail, past the sprinkling stands; shoulder to shoulder with Speed Demon, flashing by Judge Crawford; nose to flank with Son o' Satan; holding it, nose to flank. "Which heat?" gasped Bob.

"Fourth!" yelled Tubby, nearly bursting with excitement. "Son o' Satan got the second, and she got the third!"

Nose to shoulder, and three-quarters of the track gone. Nose and nose and by the front stands. And again that slim nose stretching out, a scarlet flash past the judge's stand, and over the line to win the race!

There must have been shouting and throwing of hats in the air, prize money and a leading of Bonny Bell past cheering stands; but of the rest of this day, Bob Brent could remember only one thing.

He could remember that he and Beverly stood at sunset out past the redeemed Brentwood stables, where the hill rises to meet the sky, their hands resting together on the shoulder of Bonny Bell. And just as the sun dropped low over the western horizon, Beverly came into his outstretched arms and lifted her face to his.

"I was wrong about what I said before, Bob," she whispered, and her voice was tremulous. "You have a racing heart."

"Oh, Beverly! I do have a racing heart," he answered her whisper. "Put your hand on it, dear and feel how it's racing—for you!"

Family Minus Hands, Feet

In the last two generations of a family in Brazil five members were born without hands or feet, according to a report to the Eugenics Research committee. Three are children whose father, similarly crippled, died recently. One uncle, also deformed, still lives. Biologists say that in the family the chromosomes, contained in every living cell, looked the unit responsible for the formation of hands and feet.

Sore Throats and Coughs

Quickly Relieved by this Safe Prescription

Here's a doctor's prescription that is really throat insurance. Sore or irritated throats are relieved and soothed almost instantly with the very first swallow. About 90 per cent of all coughs are caused by an irritated throat; consequently for most coughs too there is nothing better than this famous prescription—it goes direct to the internal cause. It is put up under the name Thoxine and is guaranteed to stop coughs and relieve sore throats in 15 minutes or your money will be refunded. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantly, it contains nothing harmful, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Ask for Thoxine 35c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Skague's and all other good drug stores. advt.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1930

Building Prospects for 1930

BRAINERD, which last year boasted of over a million dollars of new building construction, faces 1930 with much new building assured.

The St. Paul Episcopal congregation and the First Baptist church have building committees, one to complete the church edifice and the latter to remodel the church auditorium and complete the religious education unit that was begun nine years ago.

The Russell Creamery Company is expected to make many changes in its plant. The telephone company is to spend a large sum in plant improvements. The Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel at Lower Gull lake will be completed this spring. There will be much improvement of highways leading to Brainerd.

There may be considerable remodeling of store buildings as well as new homes built in Brainerd and at the lakes. Out in the country more attention is to be paid poultry raising and modern chicken houses will be built.

In Brainerd there are persistent rumors of new industries to locate here and of sites being sought. The Farmers Cooperative creamery has bought lots near its present location for future plant extensions.

The possible re-routing of Trunk Highway No. 2 through Brainerd is causing interest as to where the road will run and with it comes, in the future, a concrete bridge capable of handling traffic equal to the new one at Anoka.

On all sides one meets with a spirit of optimism in Brainerd. There will be a building program, there will be trade extensions, there will be growth in material things coupled with things spiritual, all indicating basic confidence in the city and surrounding country.

Out in the offing there may be changes and improvements at the railway shops, the paper mill, Brainerd foundry, boat works, bottling works, garment factory, etc.

A revival of the South Range mining industry will bring Brainerd to the forefront with a developed mine adjacent to the city limits and much mineral lands in a belt near Southeast Brainerd and the South Side.

Personal Property Tax Lists

THE DISPATCH has started publication of the personal property tax lists. Taxes must be paid on or before the last day of February or a penalty will attach.

The tax lists make interesting reading. Of course, the first move of any family is to see what they are to pay and the next is to make comparisons with the neighbors or with other families who may also boast a radio, a piano, an electric washer and other refinements. The moneys and credits column is eagerly scanned too.

The town people next turn to the lake country districts to see what assessment has been made of personal property at the lake cottage.

Farmers study the lists to see what they and their neighbors are to pay. In some communities and in Brainerd there is often spirited rivalry to see who will be among the first to pay taxes.

And then, after the first commotion aroused by publication of these personal property tax lists, comes consideration of the car and truck, as to what these will incur in state license fees.

After these are paid, there dawns the first half of the realty taxes. Yes, as one old authority has remarked, there are two things always certain in this world, death and taxes. We must meet the call of both and it can be done with a smile too.

A Crow Wing County Problem

AN article in a recent issue of a Grand Rapids paper is causing a great deal of talk among the business and professional men, especially the lawyers, of Brainerd. The article deals with the removal of the district court judgeship from Brainerd to Grand Rapids by the election of a Grand Rapids attorney to succeed Judge W. S. McClenahan.

The last session of the legislature made it possible for Judge McClenahan to retire on full pay for the remainder of his term and half pay during his life. The loss of the judgeship to Crow Wing county would be a calamity, inasmuch as the taxpayers recently spent thousands of dollars in fitting up chambers and furnishing a library for the judge of the district court. Besides this, litigants would have to bear the expense of court work between centers of court their attorneys might have to do, all of which would be done at Park Rapids, Bemidji or Grand Rapids. If prisoners desired to plead guilty between terms of court, the County Attorney, Clerk of Court and Sheriff would have to go with the prisoner to one of the above towns, all at the expense of the taxpayers.

It is generally assumed that Judge McClenahan will not be a candidate for reelection.

The judgeship must by all means be retained in Brainerd because it is the most important city in the district, is more centrally located and convenient of access at all times.

County Health Nurse Report

THIS is the season of the year when various county and city officers make their annual reports. One of the most interesting and comprehensive reports filed is that of the county health nurse, Miss Caroline Walz. Its compilation entailed much labor and so did the keeping of the records during the year.

In her activities Miss Walz gained a perfect view of Crow Wing county insofar as economic and health conditions are concerned. She has a routine that included visits to homes, school inspections, clinics, educational and administrative work, etc. One wonders how the county ever got along in the early days when there was no county health nurse.

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra

FINAL plans for the 16th annual midwinter tour of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra have been announced. They will play in Cuba by special invitation of the government. Thirty concerts will be given throughout America, the orchestra playing in 24 cities and traveling over 6,500 miles.

Crow Wing county is always interested in the symphony orchestra, for a group make their summer homes at the lakes here and in the fall contribute music in appearances at the county fair at Pequot.

Building Prospects for 1930

BRAINERD, which last year boasted of over a million dollars of new building construction, faces 1930 with much new building assured.

The St. Paul Episcopal congregation and the First Baptist church have building committees, one to complete the church edifice and the latter to remodel the church auditorium and complete the religious education unit that was begun nine years ago.

The Russell Creamery Company is expected to make many changes in its plant. The telephone company is to spend a large sum in plant improvements. The Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel at Lower Gull lake will be completed this spring. There will be much improvement of highways leading to Brainerd.

There may be considerable remodeling of store buildings as well as new homes built in Brainerd and at the lakes. Out in the country more attention is to be paid poultry raising and modern chicken houses will be built.

In Brainerd there are persistent rumors of new industries to locate here and of sites being sought. The Farmers Cooperative creamery has bought lots near its present location for future plant extensions.

The possible re-routing of Trunk Highway No. 2 through Brainerd is causing interest as to where the road will run and with it comes, in the future, a concrete bridge capable of handling traffic equal to the new one at Anoka.

On all sides one meets with a spirit of optimism in Brainerd. There will be a building program, there will be trade extensions, there will be growth in material things coupled with things spiritual, all indicating basic confidence in the city and surrounding country.

Out in the offing there may be changes and improvements at the railway shops, the paper mill, Brainerd foundry, boat works, bottling works, garment factory, etc.

A revival of the South Range mining industry will bring Brainerd to the forefront with a developed mine adjacent to the city limits and much mineral lands in a belt near Southeast Brainerd and the South Side.

Personal Property Tax Lists

THE DISPATCH has started publication of the personal property tax lists. Taxes must be paid on or before the last day of February or a penalty will attach.

The tax lists make interesting reading. Of course, the first move of any family is to see what they are to pay and the next is to make comparisons with the neighbors or with other families who may also boast a radio, a piano, an electric washer and other refinements. The moneys and credits column is eagerly scanned too.

The town people next turn to the lake country districts to see what assessment has been made of personal property at the lake cottage.

Farmers study the lists to see what they and their neighbors are to pay. In some communities and in Brainerd there is often spirited rivalry to see who will be among the first to pay taxes.

And then, after the first commotion aroused by publication of these personal property tax lists, comes consideration of the car and truck, as to what these will incur in state license fees.

After these are paid, there dawns the first half of the realty taxes. Yes, as one old authority has remarked, there are two things always certain in this world, death and taxes. We must meet the call of both and it can be done with a smile too.

A Crow Wing County Problem

AN article in a recent issue of a Grand Rapids paper is causing a great deal of talk among the business and professional men, especially the lawyers, of Brainerd. The article deals with the removal of the district court judgeship from Brainerd to Grand Rapids by the election of a Grand Rapids attorney to succeed Judge W. S. McClenahan.

The last session of the legislature made it possible for Judge McClenahan to retire on full pay for the remainder of his term and half pay during his life. The loss of the judgeship to Crow Wing county would be a calamity, inasmuch as the taxpayers recently spent thousands of dollars in fitting up chambers and furnishing a library for the judge of the district court. Besides this, litigants would have to bear the expense of court work between terms of court their attorneys might have to do, all of which would be done at Park Rapids, Bemidji or Grand Rapids. If prisoners desired to plead guilty between terms of court, the County Attorney, Clerk of Court and Sheriff would have to go with the prisoner to one of the above towns, all at the expense of the taxpayers.

It is generally assumed that Judge McClenahan will not be a candidate for reelection.

The judgeship must by all means be retained in Brainerd because it is the most important city in the district, is more centrally located and convenient of access at all times.

County Health Nurse Report

THIS is the season of the year when various county and city officers make their annual reports. One of the most interesting and comprehensive reports filed is that of the county health nurse, Miss Caroline Walz. Its compilation entailed much labor and so did the keeping of the records during the year.

In her activities Miss Walz gained a perfect view of Crow Wing county insofar as economic and health conditions are concerned. She has a routine that included visits to homes, school inspections, clinics, educational and administrative work, etc. One wonders how the county ever got along in the early days when there was no county health nurse.

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra

FINAL plans for the 16th annual midwinter tour of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra have been announced. They will play in Cuba by special invitation of the government. Thirty concerts will be given throughout America, the orchestra playing in 24 cities and traveling over 6,500 miles.

Crow Wing county is always interested in the symphony orchestra, for a group make their summer homes at the lakes here and in the fall contribute music in appearances at the county fair at Pequot.

Be sure to get your money's worth

It's your money. You've earned it. It will be spent. For fuel, clothes, furniture, food, all sorts of necessities . . . and if there's any left, for luxuries.

The way to make that hard-earned money go farthest is to purchase products of certain value. Products backed by well-known manufacturers. Products that are widely bought and used, that are carefully and painstakingly kept to high standards of quality, and that have been found over and over again to give full worth. Advertised products!

When you buy a watch or a rake, a set of china or a radio set that is advertised in this paper, you are buying a product whose maker is willing to talk about it, tell about it, put what he knows about it in print and sign his name to it. When you buy advertised merchandise by name, you get the utmost of purchasing value from every dollar.

Because it doesn't pay to advertise poor products, it does pay to buy those advertised.

FIGHTING SPIRIT PRONOUNCED IN BRAINERD'S WIN

KASCH'S MEN COME THROUGH WITH SENSATIONAL FINISH,
SHOW IMPROVEMENT

BIG GUNS FIND RANGE; AITKIN
STRONGEST IN YEARS; WIN IS IMPORTANT

Brainerd high's fighting spirit brought out so prominently last evening, will continue tonight in the game at the Washington high school gym with Aitkin.

That Brainerd will make it two straight wins in two consecutive nights was the popular prediction here today, particularly by followers of the sport who saw the team play Staples.

Last night's game left the locals in good shape and found them more accurate in shooting than in any game previous this year.

Aitkin will be no set-up. The squad is stronger than it has been for years. Since the result will have a bearing on the sub-district tournament standings in the matter of pairing of teams, it is important that Brainerd wins.

Coach Warren Kasch has given his men several new plays besides those used to concentrate on Staples.

The game will start at 8:15 P. M. and will attract a capacity house.

Displaying its best style this season the Brainerd high school team defeated the Staples high last evening on the latter's floor, 33 to 28, in a six quarter bombardment which brought telling effects.

The big guns of the Brainerd squad found their marks last evening. Hautala took scoring honors with 11 points to his credit.

Only at one point in the game and that in the third quarter were the Brainerd players fighting to overcome a lead. In that quarter Staples led at one time by six points but this lead was short-lived. The third quarter closed with the score 26 to 25 in favor of Staples.

Bringing all of its guns into action in the last quarter Brainerd finished in a blaze of glory.

The Staples team was no easy mark. The players are fast, but with the exception of Alder, right guard, lack accurate shooters. Alder's phenomenal shooting saved Staples from a more severe defeat. His shots found the hoop for six field goals and four free throws for a total of 16 points. He was high point man on the floor.

The small floor did not handicap the Brainerd team. On occasions Hautala and Guin scored on long shots from near center but in the majority of scores Brainerd worked its way through for close-in shots.

E. Foster scored three field goals while Hoffbauer scored one field goal and a free throw when he saw action in the third quarter.

Bernard Foster scored two of the prettiest baskets of the game from beyond the foul line. Guin's overhead score was the most sensational individual effort in the scoring. He shot the ball in with one hand.

The Brainerd team is to be praised for the way it played last evening. Even when behind, the 50 Brainerd fans who followed their team to Staples knew that the team would come through. There was that much confidence in the way the boys played.

Better than a 100 per cent improvement was seen in the free throw scoring. Brainerd scored seven out of a possible 13. Hautala made his throws count, sinking five free throws out of a possible six.

Brainerd led at the close of the first quarter by 7 to 3, increased its lead to 15 to 10 at the close of the half, followed by 26 to 25 at the close of the third quarter, but staged a final quarter rally to win in a walk.

Hautala, Guin and Bernard Foster were the old veterans again. They stood the brunt of the attack and teamed up effectively in the offense. Elmer Foster, as ever, worked hard and Clausen played his ordinarily steady game. These five are well balanced, work in unison and will be hard to beat. But even the best of players must be relieved from strenuous play. A great deal of improvement will be necessary in the second string men to bring them up to the calibre of the first stringers.

Youse guys who thought it was too cold to go up to Staples last night to see the high school team play missed a real ball game! The boys had lots of fight—they wanted to help Pop Kasch celebrate—and they surely did it, too, although they had to come from behind in the last quarter to win the game.

No one can complain today of the way Captain Guin and Hautala "found themselves" last evening. Guin used his height to great advantage to score four field goals on short and tip-in shots under the Staples basket. "Hoot" counted for free throws on five occasions out of six attempts and dropped in three pretty baskets for good measure.

Clausen was the only one of the six Blue and White boys who played who did not score a point. He missed two attempted free throws and his shots from the floor were from too great a distance. But the fact that he failed to score doesn't mean anything for he played a very nice defensive game—and that helps to win ball games.

Alder, the big Staples floor guard, was the big shot of the evening. He scored four field goals during that hectic third quarter. His score for the evening shows that he dropped in six baskets and scored four free throws out of a possible five. Not a bad record for one evening.

Hoffbauer was, as usual during the short time he played, the fastest man on the floor. There is certainly nothing wrong with that boy's leg action but at times he needs a compass.

B. Foster unquestionably made the most timely and prettiest shots of the evening. There in the latter part of the second half when Brainerd needed points and needed them badly, he whaled away from the center of the floor and dropped in two pretty, oh, very pretty, field goals.

E. Foster scored three field goals for the evening. He had hard luck on several under the basket shots. That boy has a lot of fight—the whole team certainly displayed fight, though. E. Foster has nice shooting form and he is a hard man to guard on his close-in shots, especially.

The Belch failed to rise to the occasion last evening. By that we mean that John Belch, Staples forward, failed to score a field goal. The Staples guards did most of the scoring.

The Blue and White seconds should "be hot" this evening for the Motley "gym" is described as a cracker box with a radiator at each end. The Staples arena wasn't exactly large enough to get lost in, either.

The St. Cloud Times was "all wet" again yesterday. It claimed Crosby-Ironton came into fame last week by trouncing Brainerd. In the first place Brainerd was beaten but it hardly got a trouncing. And then, too, we think that Coach Nichols of St. Cloud has heard of Crosby-Ironton before the later defeated Brainerd. At least he should have. But here is the biggest error the Times made. It said, "Brainerd's backers had claimed a wide margin of superiority over the Rabbits prior to the fracas." That is news, isn't it?

It is rumored that little Dougie Kasch uttered a squeal of delight this morning when Mama Kasch told him how Pop's team defeated Staples last evening.

It is hoped that little Dougie will use his lungs again tomorrow morning when he awakens to find (we hope) that Brainerd has beaten Aitkin this evening.

The Blue and White hit seven free throws out of a possible thirteen last evening. That is quite an improvement over the showing last week against Crosby. Congratulations, Boys. Keep it up tonight against Aitkin and turn in a conference victory.

With Old Man Sol showing his face today and warmer temperatures predicted, it is assured there will be some more ski jumping tomorrow afternoon at the hill overlooking Upper Gilbert lake on the scaffold which has been built by several Brainerd boys interested in this popular pastime. Some very nice jumps have been made on this hill, although it is a very difficult one to negotiate with proper form. These boys are doing some magnificent work to create the proper enthusiasm over this sport in this locality.

Since Henry Mills gave his unqualified recommendation that Paul M. Jones succeed Coach Spears at the U. of M. as football mentor, Mr. Jones states that he has received innumerable calls, both local and long distance, from parties wishing to congratulate him. He states that some ardent sportsman even called him up in the wee hours this morning, getting him out of bed in the cold, to talk over the situation.

Mr. Jones ventured the prediction this morning that in three years, Pop Warner and Coach Spears will have control of football on the Pacific coast. He believes Spears will build his teams around brute strength, as he has in the past, instead of using strategy.

ALUMNUS OF UNIVERSITY IS FAVORED

MARTINEAU IS AT PRESENT ASSISTANT COACH AT PURDUE UNIVERSITY

OTHER PROSPECTS ARE BIERMAN, DOBIE, SOLEM AND SHAUGHNESSY

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Earl Martineau, one of Minnesota's most famous all-Americans, will be given consideration when a successor to Dr. Clarence W. Spears is appointed University of Minnesota football coach, it was reported today.

The university department of athletics is strongly in favor of appointing an alumnus for the position. Martineau, at present assistant coach at Purdue, was reported to have received more attention than several other candidates.

Among the other former Minnesota players prominently mentioned were Bernie Bierman of Tulane, Gil Dobie of Cornell, Ossie Solem of Drake and Clark Shaughnessy of Loyola.

The report that an alumnus probably will be signed as coach gave credence on the university campus that the resignation of Dr. Spears to go to Oregon university may presage sweeping changes in the Minnesota athletic policy.

Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the university, was reported favorable toward instituting the Harvard system at Minnesota. The reorganization, it was said, would include:

1. That a full time freshmen football coaching staff be organized.
2. That curriculum adjustments be made so that all football players could practice after 4 p. m. This move would eliminate the necessity for night practice and would tend to improve the athletic standing of all squad members.
3. That scholastic standings of all athletic squad members be available to coaches.
4. That a special athletic publicity director be appointed.
5. That the football coach be allowed to submit his program in person or in writing to the athletic committee.

Missoula, Mont., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon, and Dr. Clarence Spears, famed Minnesota football coach, were to continue their conference today concerning terms by which Oregon hopes to secure Spears as the successor of Captain John McEwan.

"We have not finished our conference," Dr. Hall said last night. "There are still a few details to iron out which will be done tomorrow."

"I have been talking over the matter with Dr. Spears and you see there were some matters to iron out that we couldn't dispose of via distance telephone. There will be something definite to announce tomorrow."

PUT ARMS AROUND EACH OTHER, THEN NOTHING STOPS 'EM

by LOTTIE

Dressed in red and white, the Staples team looked rather dangerous, but nothing scared the blues and whites last night.

The Staples gymnasium looked quite small after being accustomed to the Brainerd gym, and the seating arrangement was very unique. There was a step ladder to climb up on some improvised seats made of planks and once up you had to stay there for the ladder was taken away.

Music was furnished throughout the game by the Staples high school band. Most of the "yell" period was monopolized by Staples who had a boy dressed in white trousers and red shirt with a megaphone as large as himself, as their leader. Almost the entire group cheering was composed of girls with only one or two boys in the number. At least the girls back their home team.

Brainerd made the first and the last basket of the game, the end of the first quarter showing 7 to 3 favor of Brainerd.

"Leo" was evidently the favorite player in the Staples team for through the entire game "Get it Leo!" and "Come on Leo!" was heard.

Of great interest to all the ladies at this present time of indecision as to whether to purchase a dress with a long skirt or a short skirt, was the fact that there was one long skirt in the crowd. Knees were visible with most of the others.

At the beginning of the second half Staples forged ahead, and the crowd reminded one of a stampede. However, after the Brainerd boys put their heads together and their arms around each other for conference, there was no stopping them. The Brainerd boys were not as generous as in other games, only once or twice throwing the ball to the Staples team, and even then they didn't let the reds make a basket with it.

It was the most interesting game so far, and great improvement was shown for the Brainerd boys.

LANDIS IN RULING ON BASEBALL PLAYER ENGAGED IN BOXING

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, issued a ruling today in which he held that any baseball player who engaged in professional boxing would be regarded as having retired permanently from organized baseball.

The ruling was announced after Landis had interviewed Arthur Shires, the White Sox first baseman, who had made $10,000 recently as a professional pugilist. Judge Landis' ruling was as follows:

"Hereafter any person connected with any club or organization who engages in professional boxing will be regarded as having permanently retired from baseball. The two activities do not mix."

Shires is not disqualified as a baseball player because of his professional ring career to date, although he already is under suspension by both his club and Landis because of his "bad boy" antics during the 1929 season.

Landis did not comment on whether he would lift that suspension in event Shires gives up boxing and reforms as a ball player.

"LET 'ER GO, GABBY!"

Ray Schalk, the greatest major league catcher of his time, and now a coach for the Chicago Cubs, is encouraging Gabby Hartnett in his efforts to return to form. Gabby, the Cubs' star catcher, works out daily at the I. A. C. gymnasium in Chicago. Schalk says that Gabby's arm is in first class shape.

Great though Welter Champion Jackie Fields is at his best, the crown may pass to Dynamiter Jimmy McLarnin if the former's managers permit him to risk the title against the heaviest hitting man of his size now active in the ring. Alder, the big Staples floor guard, was the big shot of the evening. He scored four field goals during that hectic third quarter. His score for the evening shows that he dropped in six baskets and scored four free throws out of a possible five. Not a bad record for one evening.

Hoffbauer was, as usual during the short time he played, the fastest man on the floor. There is certainly nothing wrong with that boy's leg action but at times he needs a compass.

B. Foster unquestionably made the most timely and prettiest shots of the evening. There in the latter part of the second half when Braierd needed points and needed them badly, he whaled away from the center of the floor and dropped in two pretty, oh, very pretty, field goals.

E. Foster scored three field goals for the evening. He had hard luck on several under the basket shots. That boy has a lot of fight—the whole team certainly displayed fight, though. E. Foster has nice shooting form and he is a hard man to guard on his close-in shots, especially.

The Belch failed to rise to the occasion last evening. By that we mean that John Belch, Staples forward, failed to score a field goal. The Staples guards did most of the scoring.

The Blue and White seconds should "be hot" this evening for the Motley "gym" is described as a cracker box with a radiator at each end. The Staples arena wasn't exactly large enough to get lost in, either.

The St. Cloud Times was "all wet" again yesterday. It claimed Crosby-Ironton came into fame last week by trouncing Braierd. In the first place Braierd was beaten but it hardly got a trouncing. And then, too, we think that Coach Nichols of St. Cloud has heard of Crosby-Ironton before the latter defeated Braierd. At least he should have. But here is the biggest error the Times made. It said, "Braierd's backers had claimed a wide margin of superiority over the Rabgers prior to the fracas." That 18 news, isn't it?

It is rumored that little Dougie Kasch uttered a squeal of delight this morning when Mama Kasch told him how Pop's team defeated Staples last evening.

It is hoped that little Dougie will use his lungs again tomorrow morning when he awakens to find (we hope) that Braierd has beaten Aitkin this evening.

The Blue and White hit seven free throws out of a possible thirteen last evening. That is quite an improvement over the showing last week against Crosby. Congratulations, Boys. Keep it up tonight against Aitkin and turn in a conference victory.

With Old Man Sol showing his face today and warmer temperatures predicted, it is assured there will be some more ski jumping tomorrow afternoon at the hill overlooking Upper Gilbert lake on the scaffold which has been built by several Braierd boys interested in this popular pastime. Some very nice jumps have been made on this hill, although it is a very difficult one to negotiate with proper form. These boys are doing some magnificent work to create the proper enthusiasm over this sport in this locality.

Since Henry Mills gave his unqualified recommendation that Paul M. Jones succeed Coach Spears at the U. of M. as football mentor, Mr. Jones states that he has received innumerable calls, both local and long distance, from parties wishing to congratulate him. He states that some ardent sportsman even called him up in the wee hours this morning, getting him out of bed in the cold, to talk over the situation.

Mr. Jones ventured the prediction this morning that in three years, Pop Warner and Coach Spears will have control of football on the Pacific coast. He believes Spears will build his teams around brute strength, as he has in the past, instead of using strategy.

ALUMNUS OF UNIVERSITY IS FAVORED

MARTINEAU IS AT PRESENT ASSISTANT COACH AT PURDUE UNIVERSITY

OTHER PROSPECTS ARE BIERMAN, DOBIE, SOLEM AND SHAUGHNESSY

Minneapolis, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Earl Martineau, one of Minnesota's most famous all-Americans, will be given consideration when a successor to Dr. Clarence W. Spears is appointed University of Minnesota football coach, it was reported today.

The university department of athletics is strongly in favor of appointing an alumnus for the position. Martineau, at present assistant coach at Purdue, was reported to have received more attention than several other candidates.

Among the other former Minnesota players prominently mentioned were Bernie Bierman of Tulane, Gil Dobie of Cornell, Ossie Solem of Drake and Clark Shaughnessy of Loyola.

The report that an alumnus probably will be signed as coach gave credence on the university campus that the resignation of Dr. Spears to go to Oregon university may presage sweeping changes in the Minnesota athletic policy.

Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the university, was reported favorable toward instituting the Harvard system at Minnesota. The reorganization, it was said, would include:

1. That a full time freshmen football coaching staff be organized.
2. That curriculum adjustments be made so that all football players could practice after 4 p. m. This move would eliminate the necessity for night practice and would tend to improve the athletic standing of all squad members.
3. That scholastic standings of all athletic squad members be available to coaches.
4. That a special athletic publicity director be appointed.
5. That the football coach be allowed to submit his program in person or in writing to the athletic committee.

University of Oregon, and Dr. Clarence Spears, famed Minnesota football coach, were to continue their conference today concerning terms by which Oregon hopes to secure Spears as the successor of Captain John McEwan.

"We have not finished our conference," Dr. Hall said last night. "There are still a few details to iron out which will be done tomorrow. I have been talking over the matter with Dr. Spears and you see there were some matters to iron out that we couldn't dispose of via distance telephone. There will be something definite to announce tomorrow."

PUT ARMS AROUND EACH OTHER, THEN NOTHING STOPS 'EM

by LOTTIE

Dressed in red and white, the Staples team looked rather dangerous, but nothing scared the blues and whites last night.

The Staples gymnasium looked quite small after being accustomed to the Braierd gym, and the seating arrangement was very unique. There was a step ladder to climb up on some improvised seats made of planks and once up you had to stay there for the ladder was taken away.

Music was furnished throughout the game by the Staples high school band. Most of the "yell" period was monopolized by Staples who had a boy dressed in white trousers and red shirt with a megaphone as large as himself, as their leader. Almost the entire group cheering was composed of girls with only one or two boys in the number. At least the girls back their home team.

Braierd made the first and the last basket of the game, the end of the first quarter showing 7 to 3 favor of Braierd.

"Leo" was evidently the favorite player in the Staples team for through the entire game "Get it Leo!" and "Come on Leo!" was heard.

Of great interest to all the ladies at this present time of indecision as to whether to purchase a dress with a long skirt or a short skirt, was the fact that there was one long skirt in the crowd. Knees were visible with most of the others.

At the beginning of the second half Staples forged ahead, and the crowd reminded one of a stampede. However, after the Braierd boys put their heads together and their arms around each other for conference, there was no stopping them. The Braierd boys were not as generous as in other games, only once or twice throwing the ball to the Staples team, and even then they didn't let the reds make a basket with it.

It was the most interesting game so far, and great improvement was shown for the Braierd boys.

LANDIS IN RULING ON BASEBALL PLAYER ENGAGED IN BOXING

Chicago, Jan. 18. — (U.P.) — Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, issued a ruling today in which he held that any baseball player who engaged in professional boxing would be regarded as having retired permanently from organized baseball.

The ruling was announced after Landis had interviewed Arthur Shires, the White Sox first baseman, who had made $10,000 recently as a professional pugilist. Judge Landis' ruling was as follows:

"Hereafter any person connected with any club of this organization who engages in professional boxing will be regarded as having permanently retired from baseball. The two activities do not mix."

Shires is not disqualified as a baseball player because of his professional ring career to date, although he already is under suspension by both his club and Landis because of his "bad boy" antics during the 1929 season.

Landis did not comment on whether he would lift that suspension in event Shires gives up boxing and reforms as a ball player.

"LET 'ER GO, GABBY!"

Ray Schalk, the greatest major league catcher of his time, and now a coach for the Chicago Cubs, is encouraging Gabby Hartnett in his efforts to return to form. BECAUSE gamblers made ducking wonder, is listed third; Benny Bass of Philadelphia an odds-on favorite to stop Tod Morgan in their recent battle at New York City, and did so swiftly in the second round, thereby winning the junior lightweight championship, it looked so phony that the N. Y. State Boxing Commission abolished that trick division. Vid Scudgugger or no scudgugger, Bass is above average as a high-class battler and deserves first place among the junior lights.

Eddie Mack of Denver is ranked next to Bass. He's a law student at Regis College and may fight it out before the bar of justice with Attorney Fidel La Barba, former bantam champ, some day! The young Mexican (Mack is a ring name) has been boxing brilliantly in various parts of the West. Before 1930 ends, the Sport Bug would like to see Mack battle Bass, Davy Abad, the Panama punchwalloping Wallace are not in our "first five rating." Great though Welter Champion Jackie Fields is at his best, the crown may pass to Dynamiter Jimmy McLarnin if the former's managers permit him to risk the title against the heaviest hitting man of his size now active in the ring. We rate them one-two now in their class; with Vince Dundee, Young Corbett III, and Gorilla Jones following. Wiseacres doubt that McLarnin will be given a chance at the Fieldsian chin because of managerial caution. As a sporting proposition, Master Boxer Fields would have a good chance of out-pointing the baby-faced slugger. The Sport Bug will publish heavier class ratings in his next cartoon. Remember, these ratings feature fighters estimated as comers; those believed to be past the peak of title hopes have been eliminated—wisely or not, the year's ring events will disclose.

TOTALS, ETC.

Braino Beverages crashed their way to the top of the Handicap League last evening by taking the Camels for three games. The Camels were crippled by the absence of one man on the team. All of the winning counts were consistently good—872, 910 and 955 for a 2737 total. Rowell laid his ball in the pocket for three fine counts—204, 191 and 201. His 596 total was second high for the week and high for the evening. Holman and O'Brien also made nice totals of 525 and 550, respectively. DeRoche with 539 was high on the Camels' team.

The Sinclair Oils, resting in cellar position in the league, took the strong Princess Candies for two games. Hallas rolled three nice games for the Princess Candies but the rest of the team were "off." He was high man in the match with 553. The Princess Candies are now tied for third place with Study Club, while the All Stars are in second place.

Coeds Wonder What

Kind of Girl Men Like

Madison, Wis.—University of Wisconsin coeds are up in arms because a prominent fraternity man has said that a girl to be popular must not smoke, drink, or neck.

The controversy arose after a questionnaire appeared in the Daily Cardinal, student newspaper, on the subject: "What kind of girls do college men like to date, and if so, why do they always go out with the other kind?"

Men don't seem to know what they want, one coed wailed. "A girl shouldn't drink, smoke, or neck, but do many men date those who don't?" "If a girl acts sweet and simple, she is too naive. If she is sophisticated they think she is throwing the dog, and if she tries to be just natural, she's considered prosaic."

As a counter attack, another coed presented a list of qualifications demanded in a man by herself.

"He need not be handsome or a 'W' man, or a well-known campus figure," she explained. Neatness in dress and general good taste, a good heart, gentlemanliness, and ambition are much more important. He must admire intelligence in women and date them for companionship and not merely for a good necking party."

Parrot Fever Takes Toll of Human Life

MILE. CARMEN MAS LYCEUM THEATRE. HUMBERTO BUENOS AIRES. ZUROS

AS mysterious as the tropical forests of the Amazon, whence it comes, the latest epidemic to strike fear into the heart of man has made its simultaneous appearance in South America, Germany, England and various parts of the United States.

Psittachosis, or "parrot fever," one of the rarest and most dangerously infectious diseases known to scientists has made its terrible appearance, bringing with it an agonizing death, that is the outcome of characteristics similar to those of influenza and pneumonia. It strikes so suddenly and seems so mysterious, but its source of origin, Theatres, were stricken with a mysterious malady that seemed to be a frightful combination of typhoid, pneumonia and malaria. The death of the parrot that was used in the performance prompted the health department of Buenos Aires to have the bird brought to its laboratory immediately, and very soon the reason for the mysterious epidemic was known. In the campaign to stamp out the dread disease, 90 per cent of Argentine's captive parrots were slaughtered. The star of the company is recovering from the disease, but his tortures have been indescribably frightful. For weeks he was strapped to his bed.

In Germany psittachosis has made its appearance in Hamburg and Dresden with fatal results. One family of nine contracted the disease from a newly purchased bird, and is not expected to recover. In London a doctor has died from the effects of the disease.

In the United States the first cases were reported from Baltimore, where eight cases are being watched. Toledo and Cleveland have also reported several cases. In all cases, the disease is contracted from bird to man, never from man to man.

Coeds Wonder What Kind of Girl Men Like

Madison, Wis.—University of Wisconsin coeds are up in arms because a prominent fraternity man has said that a girl to be popular must not smoke, drink, or neck.

The controversy arose after a questionnaire appeared in the Daily Cardinal, student newspaper, on the subject: "What kind of girls do college men like to date, and if so, why do they always go out with the other kind?"

Men don't seem to know what they want, one coed wailed. "A girl shouldn't drink, smoke, or neck, but do many men date those who don't?"

"If a girl acts sweet and simple, she is too naive. If she is sophisticated they think she is throwing the dog, and if she tries to be just natural, she's considered prosaic."

As a counter attack, another coed presented a list of qualifications demanded in a man by herself.

"He need not be handsome or a 'W' man, or a well-known campus figure," she explained. Neatness in dress and general good taste, a good heart, gentlemanliness, and ambition are much more important. He must admire intelligence in women and date them for companionship and not merely for a good necking party."

Parrot Fever Takes Toll of Human Life

MILE. CARMEN MAS LYCEUM THEATRE HUMBERTO BUENOS AIRES. ZUROS

AS mysterious as the tropical forests of the Amazon, whence it comes, the latest epidemic to strike fear into the heart of man has made its simultaneous appearance in South America, Germany, England and various parts of the United States.

Psittachosis, or "parrot fever," one of the rarest and most dangerously infectious diseases known to science, has made its terrible appearing death, that is the outcome of characteristics similar to those of influenza and pneumonia. It strikes so suddenly and seems so mysterious, but its source of origin is contact with the seemingly innocent family parrot. That is, with a newly arrived parrot, for if the bird has been in the home for over two months, there is little danger of infection. For, to become infected with the dread disease, the parrot must have been in contact with his species within two months. So do not, but do not, for your own peace of mind, pet or feed it from month to week.

First mention of the disease came in news from Buenos Aires, where the star and eight members of the cast of a play at the Liceo Theatre, were stricken with a mysterious malady that seemed to be a frightful combination of typhoid, pneumonia and malaria. The death of the parrot that was used in the performance prompted the health department of Buenos Aires to have the bird brought to its laboratory immediately, and very soon the reason for the mysterious epidemic was known. In the campaign to stamp out the dread disease, 90 per cent of Argentine's captive parrots were slaughtered. The star of the company is recovering from the disease, but his tortures have been indescribably frightful. For weeks he was strapped to his bed.

In Germany psittachosis has made its appearance in Hamburg and Dresden with fatal results. One family of nine contracted the disease from a newly purchased bird, and is not expected to recover. In London a doctor has died from the effects of the disease.

In the United States the first cases were reported from Baltimore, where eight cases are being watched. Toledo and Cleveland have also reported several cases. In all cases, the disease is contracted from bird to man, never from man to man.

KILLS, WOUNDS AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Shoots Mother-in-Law When Refused Custody of His Child

FACES MURDER CHARGE

Roy Brinkman Attacks Driver in Attempt to Escape After Killing

Demanding the custody of his daughter from the parents of his estranged wife, Roy Brinkman of Eveleth, shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Cosner, farmer woman, wounded her husband, attacked a salesman who had given him a lift as he wittingly attempted an escape then attempted suicide by slashing his throat and one of his wrists in tragic happenings which have stirred Cass and Aitkin county people.

The shooting took place in the home of the Cosners near Shovel Lake late Wednesday.

Brinkman came to the home to ask for his young daughter. When refused, he shot Mrs. Cosner and as Mr. Cosner, his son Verne and William Evans came from another room Brinkman shot the father. One of the men died after Brinkman but missed. The mother of the child was employed at Eveleth and not at home.

After the shooting Brinkman started for the highway with a car but it stalled and he was picked up by a traveling salesman, J. K. Murray from Proctor, a director in the Shovel Lake bank. Brinkman struck Murray over the head with his gun, evidently intending to roll him out and take the car but Murray struck back and Brinkman jumped out of the car and fled.

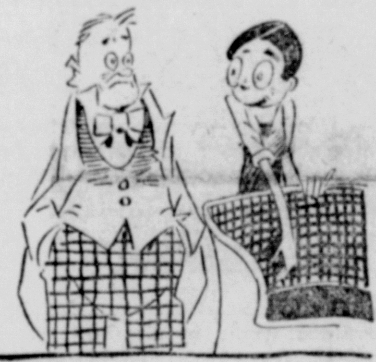

Murray told authorities that he then drove to Hill City and had his scalp dressed by Dr. Cowin and came back with a posse to hunt for the murderer. Brinkman was found near the highway with his throat and one wrist slashed in a suicide attempt. Dr. Cowin stopped the flow of blood and the man was taken to Hill City.

Brinkman was later taken to the hospital at Grand Rapids where he is reported in a serious condition.

The Cosner home is in Cass county.

Criminal proceedings will be started by authorities there when Brinkman recovers. Mrs. Cosner is survived by her husband, three daughters and two sons.

Body to be Shipped to Bay Lake for Burial Next Week; Four Children in County

Mrs. A. T. Nelson of Bay Lake was killed instantly and her husband seriously injured in an automobile crash of two cars on a highway 20 miles north of Los Angeles this week, according to word received here.

One other person was killed in the smashup, a Californian, also an occupant in the car the Nelsons were riding in with relatives. Six persons were said to have been injured.

The body of Mrs. Nelson will be returned to Bay Lake next week. Burial will be in the Deerwood cemetery. Four of Mrs. Nelson's children, Carl, William, Helen and Geraldine, are living with friends at Bay Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left for California shortly before Christmas to spend the winter. They were reported here to have inherited recently a sum of money said to total $30,000.

Mr. Nelson at one time was a candidate for the office of county commissioner.

Only vague details of the accident were stated in the telegrams received by relatives in the county. It was stated that the driver of the car which struck the car in which the Nelsons were occupants is being held on a manslaughter charge.

Dollar for dollar -the new CHEVROLET SIX is a sensational value!

Every investigation of the new Chevrolet Six must lead to a single definite conclusion—dollar for dollar, it offers more than ever before!

More Performance—for the new Chevrolet has a great six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—increased to 50 horsepower.

More Comfort—for the four long semi-elliptic springs are under the cushioned control of Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers!

More Safety—for the braking system has been re-designed . . . with fully-enclosed, internal-expanding, weather-proof brakes!

More Beauty—for the new bodies are built by Fisher . . . with all the style, smartness and distinction for which the Fisher name is famous!

More Stamina—for the new Chevrolet has a stronger rear axle, a heavier crankshaft and a sturdier transmission!

More Value—for the new Chevrolet is a smoother, faster, better Six—yet it sells in the price range of the four!

If you are considering the purchase of a low-priced car—come in and see for yourself that the Chevrolet Six gives you more for your money than ever before!

"STORM-TOSSED"

BY HELEN SCHERMERHORN YOUNG

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.
ENID MONROE is loved by Dick Grant and Ned Grier. Both young men work for the same oil company. Dick is sent to Shanghai. Ned wins Enid by telling her that Dick is carrying on an affair with an Oriental woman. When Dick returns, he learns that Enid and Ned are soon to be married. He acts as best man at the wedding, after which he leaves for the Coast. Next Summer his company sends him to a mountain resort, where Ned and Enid are vacationing with Enid's brother. Dick's love for Enid grows.

CHAPTER XX.
HE protected himself by staying close to Genevieve. Ned observed this, and on the last night at the camp before he and Enid went to sleep he whispered:
"I do believe old Dick has fallen for Genevieve. Do you notice how quiet he has become? And restless, too. I do believe he is impatient to get her home to himself."

"He certainly is attentive," Enid managed to reply, and pretended great weariness.
But when she turned on her side her eyes opened wide. She looked up at the stars—the same stars Dick saw. She wondered. Could it be? No, it was there. She knew it. Why did she think so much of that moment on the trail? She must not. But how sweet! Her heart sank. Dick would be leaving soon after they got back—and Genevieve would be going with him.

Those two glorious days riding in the sun up steep mountains, almost sliding down sometimes on the other side! Was it possible that the horses could go down these bald brown mountains? Often they seemed literally to sit down and slide down on their strong haunches. Then Enid would hold on to Paloma's mane and lean forward up another trail; then down into a cool ravine and drew her knees up around Paloma's neck as he splashed across a mountain stream.

Wonderful—wonderful—her heart sang for the beauty of it, with Dick watching carefully at every ticklish turn and warning her of a low branch on a wooded trail.
Dick—so chivalrous and thoughtful! How could he have stepped out of his own character away off there in China? But perhaps he had not felt as she had when he caught her on the trail just day before yesterday. Was it only she who had felt so strange; as if the years had rolled back to that night he had kissed her?

Enid thought of all these things as she rode steadily for the two days until they sighted Serana at sunset on Sunday evening.
Too bad such days end! Would there ever be others like them?
The next morning the boys went for a swim. But Enid and Genevieve sat on Pauline's porch and waited until they came up from the lake, changed and said that they thought it was time for a cocktail, although it wasn't quite twelve o'clock.

Dave shook up the cocktails and poured them out. Dick handed one to each of the girls.
It was a close, united little group which sat there, lazily smiling with good humor at each other. Genevieve had been received with a warmth which all felt. She had proved herself such a good sport on the camping trip that she was one of them.

and not his baby. God! What was the matter with him? That old gnawing again. That fear. And he had had such a good time—with old Genevieve to back him up it had been easier. Perhaps Gen understood. But now this business. There came those black thoughts again—Ned—Enid—it might have been so different.

Ridiculous to think that he couldn't conquer his feelings. It was cowardly to let such a little statement as their having a child and naming it for him hurl him into a frenzy of fear and weakness. No more of that business. Why, it was the greatest compliment they could pay him, and after all it was natural. He'd do the same thing himself.

"Yes, sir," exclaimed Ned. "When Enid and I have a son and he'll be Richard Grant Grier."
Dick felt his hands moisten suddenly.
A baby boy—Richard Grant Grier. Great God—how often had he thought of only "Richard Grant, Jr." He was all wrong now—that fiendish fear was back. He'd leave. Yes, that's what he'd do—get out—and get out quick. He got up and walked over to the ranch house and called up the office. That was only a pretext.

Upon returning he announced: "Got to go up to town this afternoon. Just had the office on the phone. I'll have to leave right after lunch."
"Why, it's only Monday, Dick," said Pauline.
"Yes and you said you could stay until Wednesday," added Enid.
"Tough luck," from Ned.
Dick started toward his cabin as Genevieve rose and said she'd be only a few moments getting out of her riding clothes and packing.

"But you don't have to go," insisted Pauline. "Stay through this week, and perhaps Dick will come down for the next week-end."
"Oh, no, thank you," said Genevieve. "You're awfully kind. But I'd better drive up with Dick. And the next week-end we're going to Lake Tahoe."
Enid felt a sinking sensation. Genevieve was going with Dick, and they would be together next week-end at the same house-party at Lake Tahoe. Genevieve was in love with Dick. Enid was sure of it. She had seen it and felt it.

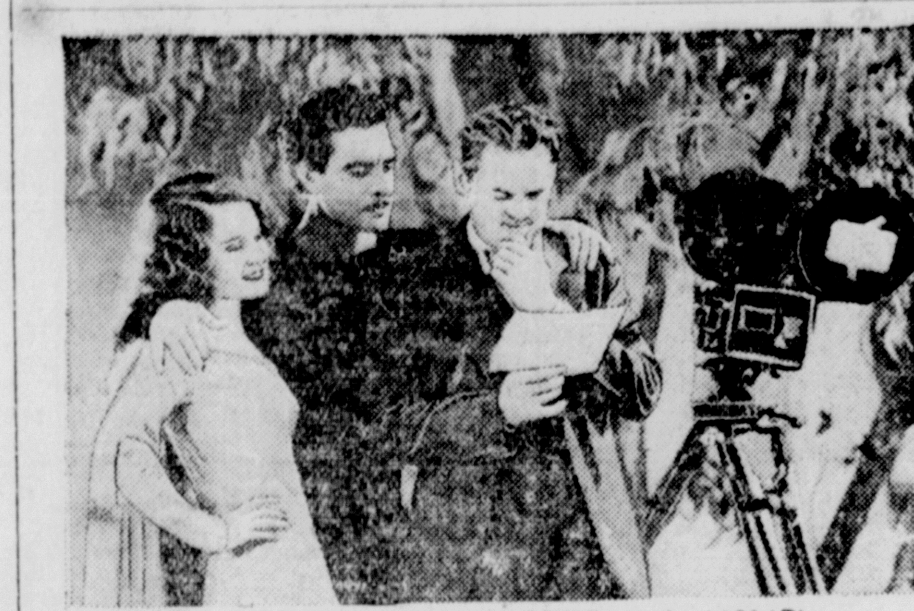

Would Dick fall in love with Genevieve?
"Shall we go over to our house and get ready for lunch?" asked Ned, taking Enid's hand and pulling her up out of her chair.
They walked over to their cabin, and while Ned was drying his hands he walked to the door of their bedroom and said to Enid:
"Genevieve is certainly crazy about Dick. I'll bet that will be a go yet."

Enid was silent. She was thinking of the long drive to San Francisco—she had sat in that seat with Dick. How silly! Jealous? No—hadn't Dick told her he had never held Genevieve's hand? Yes, he had told her that. But—would he hold her hand on the way home?

Helen Kane, the popular musical comedy star, who scored so favorably again proving the irresistible quality in the Richard Dix picture, "Nothing But The Truth," and more recently in "Sweetie," plays a prominent role along with William Powell, Fay Wray and Skeets Gallagher in Paramount's gay musical comedy picture, "Pointed Heels."
In "Pointed Heels" Miss Kane sings two new song hits, "Aintcha" and "Have To Have You," both of which give every promise of being favorites of the new season. Miss Kane, of the Paramount Sunday only.

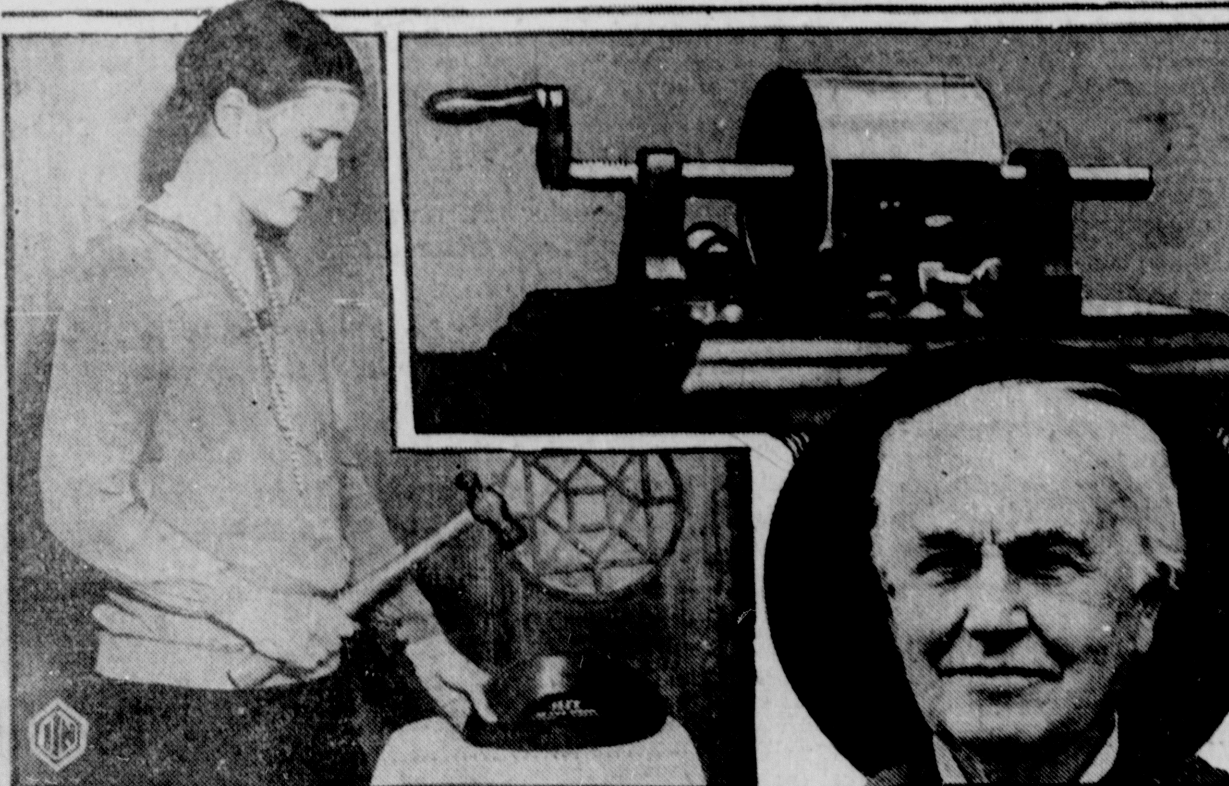

NORMA SHEARER, JOHN GILBERT and LIONEL BARRYMORE in "THE HOLLYWOOD REVUE"

"The Hollywood Revue," a stupendous musical comedy extravaganza, considered to be the outstanding production of its kind yet produced on the audible screen, and featuring every star listed under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer banner, will open a three day engagement at the Paramount theatre Monday.
So much gaiety takes place in "The Hollywood Revue." It is almost impossible to tell what each star does.

Records That Can't Be Broken

THE PEN may be mightier than the sword, but it isn't half as powerful as the new material that is to be used for phonograph records. If the newsreel pictures and the talkies are accurate criteria the pen together with the printing press may be due for a long vacation. And the spoken word will indeed be ruler of a new kingdom where newspapers and magazines will emerge in the guise of phonograph records.
The new and wonderful material announced recently by Doctors Louis Hammett and George H. Walden, Jr. is called "Durium" and is all that its name implies. For it is durable to the point of unbreakability and of equal flexibility, making it ideal for phonograph records in particular. But not the old type of record that dropped when any one looked at it. Not by a long shot! The new durium records can do duty as a tea-pot stand, a dinner plate, a door-mat or a nice toy for baby without in the least impairing their efficiency or tonal properties.
Durium is so inexpensive that it is planned to issue standard sized records each week, to be retailed at 15 cents apiece through such agencies of distribution as news-stands and various retail stores in much the same way as the weekly magazine is marketed. It is easy from this to visualize the time when the weekly paper will consist of records amplifying the news-reel pictures that have taken such a hold on popular imagination. Talking pictures will also be made of durium, which has the added advantage of emerging from the mails intact regardless of the handling to which it has been subjected.

All this seems so far away from the little brittle wax disc that was used by Thomas Edison to record voices for his phonograph. It was so soft that after having been played for admiring neighbors a few times its easily marred surface was so scratched or chipped that one of Sousa's marches sounded like a record of a menagerie of wild animals before feeding time. And now that the new material promises us practically unbreakable records, in addition to all the other marvels of the age, we may still witness a revival of the gramophone that has of late been eclipsed by so many other marvels. We may even read our recorded newspapers from it.

Genevieve had been received with a warmth which all felt. She had proved herself such a good sport on the camping trip that she was one of them.

Enid—although she felt a little piqued at Dick's constant attention to Genevieve and reproached herself strongly for admitting it—was really charmed with the girl and wished that she could be generous enough to wish that Dick would marry her. Why shouldn't he?

Dick and Ned as usual soon had their heads together in deep conversation.

"What cronies you two are!" Genevieve said, when they suddenly realized that they were excluding themselves, without being conscious of it, from the rest of the party, and hurriedly turned to join them.

"Yes," declared Ned, "and what's more we've never had a misunderstanding. We've had arguments all right and hot ones, too. But we always managed to make an adjustment or compromise before we got into a fight. Didn't we, Dick?"

Dick nodded his head. His lock of black hair fell in his eyes, and he pushed it back.

"Don't tell me that you and Dick have never had a scrap in all these years," laughed Genevieve. "Boys' friendships must be different from girls. Girls always quarrel over a boy."

"Yes," declared Pauline, "and when they grow to be women they usually have misunderstandings over a man. Never saw it fail yet."

"I don't like to decry my sex," Genevieve announced, "but don't you think that women will often resort to means to gain their point, or rather their man, which men would not consider?"

"I wonder whether it was a man or woman who said, 'All's fair in love and war,'" Enid mused.

"Well," said Dave. "I won't have it said that a man made that statement. Haven't I seen girls ditch their best friends over a man. But, by golly, I guess we're worth it."

Every one laughed, but the conversation was making Ned feel very uncomfortable. He left his chair to get a match from the table around which they were sitting and, as he passed Dick, he rested his hand affectionately on Dick's shoulder and said:

"No, sir, Dick and I never scrapped; never had anything to scrap about. We always understood each other. You know if Enid and I ever have a boy, his name is to be Richard Grant."

Oh—why did they talk about such things? Why couldn't they stop torturing him? Dick made an excuse to go back to his cabin. A boy—Dick Grant. Enid's baby. Enid with a baby in her arms—and a baby that was not his. A baby belonged to Enid's breast. She was one of those maternal women. Yes—Enid and a baby. Wonder why she didn't have a baby! Never heard them mention it until today. Enid's baby—why, of course. But Enid—a baby—

and not his baby. God! What was the matter with him? That old gnawing again. That fear. And he had had such a good time—with old Genevieve to back him up it had been easier. Perhaps Gen understood. But now this business. There came those black thoughts again—Ned—Enid—it might have been so different.

Ridiculous to think that he couldn't conquer his feelings. It was cowardly to let such a little statement as their having a child and naming it for him hurl him into a frenzy of fear and weakness. No more of that business. Why, it was the greatest compliment they could pay him, and after all it was natural. He'd do the same thing himself.

"Yes, sir," exclaimed Ned. "When Enid and I have a son and he'll be Richard Grant Grier."

Dick felt his hands moisten suddenly.

A baby boy—Richard Grant Grier. Great God—how often had he thought of only "Richard Grant, Jr." He was all wrong now—that fiendish fear was back. He'd leave. Yes, that's what he'd do—get out—and get out quick. He got up and walked over to the ranch house and called over the office. That was only a pretext.

Upon returning he announced: "Got to go up to town this afternoon. Just had the office on the phone. I'll have to leave right after lunch."

"Why, it's only Monday, Dick," said Pauline.

"Yes and you said you could stay until Wednesday," added Enid.

"Tough luck," from Ned.

Dick started toward his cabin as Genevieve rose and said she'd be only a few moments getting out of her riding clothes and packing.

"But you don't have to go," insisted Pauline. "Stay through this week, and perhaps Dick will come down for the next weekend."

"Oh, no, thank you," said Genevieve. "You're awfully kind. But I'd better drive up with Dick. And the next weekend we're going to Lake Tahoe."

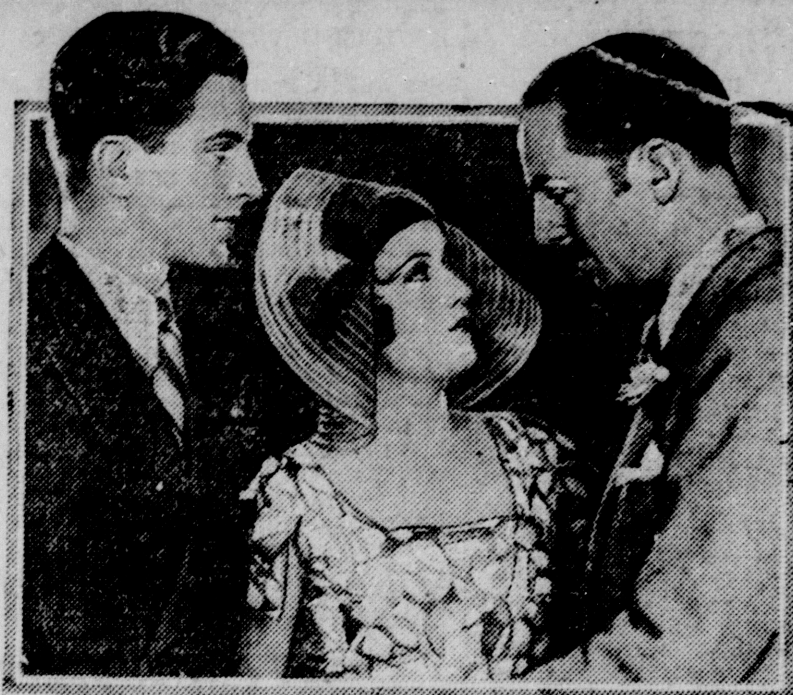

Enid felt a sinking sensation. Genevieve was going with Dick, and they would be together next weekend at the same house—was in love with Dick. Enid was sure of it. She had seen it and felt it.

Would Dick fall in love with Genevieve? "Shall we go over to our house and get ready for lunch?" asked Ned, taking Enid's hand and pulling her up out of her chair. They walked over to their cabin, and while Ned was drying his hands he walked to the door of their bedroom and said to Enid:

"Genevieve is certainly crazy about Dick. I'll bet that will be a go yet."

Enid was silent. She was thinking of the long drive to San Francisco—she had sat in that seat with Dick. How silly! Jealous? No—hadn't Dick told her he had never held Genevieve's hand? Yes, he had told her that. But—would he hold her hand on the way home?

Helen Kane, the popular musical comedy star, who scored so favorably in the Richard Dix picture, "Nothing But the Truth," and more recently in "Sweetie," plays a prominent role along with William Powell, Fay Wray and Skeets Gallagher in Paramount's gay musical comedy picture, "Pointed Heels."

In "Pointed Heels" Miss Kane sings two new song hits, "Aintcha" and "I Have To Have You," both of which give every promise of being favorites of the new season. Miss Kane, of course, sings in her inimitable fashion, again proving the irresistible quality of her "boop-boop-a-dooping" with which she always endows all her songs. And then just to make everything complete this winsome star, along with Skeets Gallagher, runs away with a score of sidesplitting comedy scenes.

"Pointed Heels" is a fast-moving rollicking, entertaining picture with a delightful romantic story as its theme. "Pointed Heels" will be shown at the Paramount Sunday only.

NORMA SHEARER, JOHN GILBERT and LIONEL BARRYMORE in "THE HOLLYWOOD REVUE"

"The Hollywood Revue," a stupendous musical comedy extravaganza, considered to be the outstanding production of its kind yet produced on the audible screen, and featuring every star listed under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer banner, will open a three day engagement at the Paramount theatre Monday.

So much gayety takes place in "The Hollywood Revue" it is almost impossible to tell what each star does.

However they sing and dance, take part in comedy skits, and in general appear and reappear in one merry scene after the other.

Of course, there are a number of high lights. One is the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet, charmingly played by John Gilbert and Norma Shearer, with Lionel Barrymore directing, followed by a modernized, burlesqued version that is sure to cause a riot of laughs.

Records That Can't Be Broken

THE PEN may be mightier than the sword, but it isn't half as powerful as the new material that is to be used for phonograph records. If the newsweek pictures and the talkies are accurate criteria the pen together with the printing press may be due for a long vacation. And the spoken word will indeed be ruler of a new kingdom where newspapers and magazines will emerge in the guise of phonograph records.

The new and wonderful material announced recently by Doctors Louis Hammett and George H. Walden, Jr. is called "Durium." For it is durable to the point of unbreakability and of equal flexibility, making it ideal for phonograph records in particular. But not the old type of record that dropped when any one looked at it. Not by a long shot! The new durium records can do duty as a tea-pot stand, a dinner plate, a door-mat or a nice toy for baby without in the least impairing their efficiency or tonal properties.

Durium is so inexpensive that it is planned to issue standard sized records each week, to be retailed at 15 cents apiece through such agencies of distribution as newsstands and various retail stores in much the same way as the weekly magazine is marketed. It is easy from this to visualize the time when the weekly paper will consist of records amplifying the news-reel pictures that have taken such a hold on popular imagination. Talking pictures will also be made of durium, which has the added advantage of emerging from the mails intact regardless of the handling to which it has been subjected.

All this seems so far away from the little brittle wax disc that was used by Thomas Edison to record voices for his phonograph. It was so soft that after having been played for admiring neighbors a few times its easily marred surface was so scratched or chipped that one of Sousa's marches sounded like a record of a menagerie of wild animals before feeding time.

And now that the new material promises us practically unbreakable records, in addition to all the other marvels of the age, we may still witness a revival of the gramophone that has of late been eclipsed by so many other marvels. We may even read our recorded newspapers from it.
